

CURRENT AFFAIRS BULLETIN VOLUME 70 INDEX

Australia and APEC: The First Five Years Simon Hay reviews the short history and prospects for APEC in terms of Australia's global, regional and domestic interests; pics. Vol 70: 10, April 1994, 12-17.

Australian Health Policy at the Crossroads Gwen Gray reviews health policy in Australia and comparative OECD countries; pics, table. Vol 70: 9, March 1994, 4-10.

Australian Trade Policy: The End of Tariff Protection? Kym Anderson and Christopher Findlay argue in favour of reforms to reduce tariffs on imports and other forms of government assistance to industry; graphs, table, pic. Vol 70: 3, August 1993, 12-18.

The Changing Strategic Environment: A Global and Regional Overview Andrew Selth looks at the broad features of the global strategic landscape and at the impact of strategic developments on the Asia-Pacific region; pic. Vol 70: 9, March 1994, 17-27.

A Competition Policy for Australia Elaine McCoy casts a critical eye on the Hilmer report and its proposals for a national competition policy for Australia; pics. Vol 70: 11, May 1994, 4-10.

A Decade of Animal Liberation Lyle Munro reviews attitudes towards the treatment of non-human animals and outlines the achievements of the animal protection lobby in the past decade; pics, figures, tables, graphs. Vol 70: 6, 12-19.

Democracy in the Middle East: The Case of Yemen Matthew Gray reports on the significance of the recent reunification and new constitution in Yemen, where they held their first free elections in April 1993; pic. Vol 70: 8, 25-27.

Democracy see also The Trials of Democracy in Algeria and Egypt

Economic Reform in the New Vietnam Leo Paul Dana idealises the spirit of private enterprise appearing in socialist Vietnam in the wake of economic reforms; pics. Vol 70: 11, May 1994, 19-25.

Employment Policy see Tackling the Jobs Crisis; Labour Market Deregulation

Environment see The Sustainable Development Debate Revisited; Environmental Politics (Reviews)

Health see Australian Health Policy at the Crossroads

India after Ayodhya Robert W. Stern reviews the prospects for India's future as a secular state; pics. Vol 70: 2, 16-20.

Islam in Malaysian Politics David Connery traces the role of Islam in Malaysian politics this century; pic. Vol 70: 8, 12-18.

Is Liberal Internationalism Dead? William Pfaff reviews the progress and slide of liberal internationalism since World War II. Vol 70: 10, 18-24.

Is There Anybody Out There? The Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence Ray Norris discusses some scientific and philosophical issues involved in the search for extra-terrestrial intelligence; pics. Vol 70: 5, 12-17.

Italy 1993: Death of a Regime? Richard Bosworth looks at what was good and bad in post-war Italian politics and speculates about developments after the 'revolution'; map, table, pics. Vol 70: 3, 4-11.

Japan see Something New Under the Rising Sun; Japan's Politics in Turmoil (Current Notes); Japan's Hosokawa: Living Dangerously (Current Notes).

Justice System see Televising Court Proceedings; Invoking Justice (Reviews); Mabo: A Judicial Revolution (Reviews).

Labour Market Deregulation: The Final Frontier? Jeremy B. Williams reviews the Accord between the government and the ACTU, and the government's recent attempts to further deregulate the labour market; pics. Vol 70: 9, 11-17.

Liberal in Vain? Scott Prasser and Mark Neylan draw on the views of senior Liberal party members regarding their loss at the March 1993 general election, and where the party should go from there; tables, pic. Vol 70: 4, 23-27.

Living off the Paradox: the Nationals and Electoral Decline Nicholas M. Economou shows how a party that is losing support can benefit from the paradoxical nature of the Australian electoral system; pics, tables. Vol 70: 2, 21-26.

Mabo see Mabo: A Judicial Revolution? (Reviews)

Malaysia see Islam in Malaysian Politics
Marketing see Toys R Big Business

Media see Opening the Airwaves: Cultural Squeeze for National Broadcasting

New Zealand Election Preview Hyam Gold reviews the state of New Zealand politics prior to the November 1993 general election; pics, illustration. Vol 70: 5, 4-11.

Nuclear Weapons in the New World Order John Forge and Sverre Myhra speculate on the role of nuclear weapons in international politics by examining the nuclear aspirations of India, Pakistan, South Africa and North Korea; pics. Vol 70: 2, 4-10.

Olympics see Sydney's (Toxic) Green Olympics; Sydney 2000: The Games People Play.

Opening the Airwaves: Cultural Squeeze for National Broadcasting? Richard Palfreyman assesses the options facing the ABC and SBS in their efforts to maintain their relevance in a deregulated environment; pics. Vol 70: 6, 19-25.

Political figures see Bob Hawke: 'A Bloke Who Loved His Country' (Reviews); Zhirinovsky (Current Notes).

Political parties see the Nationals and Electoral Decline; Liberal in Vain?

Political Reform in Vietnam Carlyle A. Thayer reviews two major political developments toward making Vietnam a 'law governed state', as a result of reforms introduced in 1986; pics. Vol 70: 1, 22-26.

Politics see also Italy 1993: Death of a regime?; Japan's Politics in Turmoil (Current Notes); New Zealand Election Preview; Something New Under the Rising Sun; South Africa: A Prisoner of History; Singapore: Consent, Coercion and Constitutional Engineering; South Australian Politics: The End of an Era; Islam in Malaysian Politics; Russia's Crisis and the Corruption of Reform (Reviews)

Rwanda see Double Genocide (Current Notes)

South Australian Politics: the End of an Era? Antony Green looks back on a remarkable decade, reviews the campaign and the election, and previews a likely new era for the Liberals in government; graph, pics, table. Vol 70: 8, 4-11.

Rural Sector see Sorting the Wheat from the Chaff

Singapore: Consent, Coercion and Constitutional Engineering Lily Rahim examines the efforts of the People's Action Party government to maintain its ascendancy in Singapore; table, pic. Vol 70: 7, pp20-26.

Something New under the Rising Sun? Electoral Reform in Japan Ross Smiley looks at the prospects for electoral reform in Japan, following the defeat of the LDP in July 1993; table, pics. Vol 70: 5, 18-26.

Sorting the Wheat from the Chaff: Exploding some Myths about the Rural Sector in Australia John W. Longworth and Paul C. Riethmuller examine and expose as myths some of the most common assumptions about the Australian rural sector; pics, tables. Vol 70: 1, 13-21.

South Africa: A Prisoner of History? Douglas Booth and Colin Tatz argue that South Africa's ideological, religious, political and economic past will not allow any real change to happen in the 'new'

CURRENT AFFAIRS BULLETIN VOLUME 70 INDEX

Australia and APEC: The First Five Years Simon Hay reviews the short history and prospects for APEC in terms of Australia's global, regional and domestic interests; pics. Vol 70: 10, April 1994, 12-17.

Australian Health Policy at the Crossroads Gwen Gray reviews health policy in Australia and comparative OECD countries; pics, table. Vol 70: 9, March 1994, 4-10.

Australian Trade Policy: The End of Tariff Protection? Kym Anderson and Christopher Findlay argue in favour of reforms to reduce tariffs on imports and other forms of government assistance to industry; graphs, table, pic. Vol 70: 3, August 1993, 12-18.

The Changing Strategic Environment: A Global and Regional Overview Andrew Selth looks at the broad features of the global strategic landscape and at the impact of strategic developments on the Asia-Pacific region; pic. Vol 70: 9, March 1994, 17-27.

A Competition Policy for Australia Elaine McCoy casts a critical eye on the Hilmer report and its proposals for a national competition policy for Australia; pics. Vol 70: 11, May 1994, 4-10.

A Decade of Animal Liberation Lyle Munro reviews attitudes towards the treatment of non-human animals and outlines the achievements of the animal protection lobby in the past decade; pics, figures, tables, graphs. Vol 70: 6, 12-19.

Democracy in the Middle East: The Case of Yemen Matthew Gray reports on the significance of the recent reunification and new constitution in Yemen, where they held their first free elections in April 1993; pic. Vol 70: 8, 25-27.

Democracy see also The Trials of Democracy in Algeria and Egypt

Economic Reform in the New Vietnam Leo Paul Dana idealises the spirit of private enterprise appearing in socialist Vietnam in the wake of economic reforms; pics. Vol 70: 11, May 1994, 19-25.

Employment Policy see Tackling the Jobs Crisis; Labour Market Deregulation

Environment see The Sustainable Development Debate Revisited; Environmental Politics (Reviews)

Health see Australian Health Policy at the Crossroads

India after Ayodhya Robert W. Stern reviews the prospects for India's future as a secular state; pics. Vol 70: 2, 16-20.

Islam in Malaysian Politics David Connery traces the role of Islam in Malaysian politics this century; pic. Vol 70: 8, 12-18.

Is Liberal Internationalism Dead? William Pfaff reviews the progress and slide of liberal internationalism since World War II. Vol 70: 10, 18-24.

Is There Anybody Out There? The Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence Ray Norris discusses some scientific and philosophical issues involved in the search for extra-terrestrial intelligence; pics. Vol 70: 5, 12-17.

Italy 1993: Death of a Regime? Richard Bosworth looks at what was good and bad in post-war Italian politics and speculates about developments after the 'revolution'; map, table, pics. Vol 70: 3, 4-11.

Japan see Something New Under the Rising Sun; Japan's Politics in Turmoil (Current Notes); Japan's Hosokawa: Living Dangerously (Current Notes).

Justice System see Televising Court Proceedings; Invoking Justice (Reviews); Mabo: A Judicial Revolution (Reviews).

Labour Market Deregulation: The Final Frontier? Jeremy B. Williams reviews the Accord between the government and the ACTU, and the government's recent attempts to further deregulate the labour market; pics. Vol 70: 9, 11-17.

Liberal in Vain? Scott Prasser and Mark Neylan draw on the views of senior Liberal party members regarding their loss at the March 1993 general election, and where the party should go from there; tables, pic. Vol 70: 4, 23-27.

Living off the Paradox: the Nationals and Electoral Decline Nicholas M. Economou shows how a party that is losing support can benefit from the paradoxical nature of the Australian electoral system; pics, tables. Vol 70: 2, 21-26.

Mabo see Mabo: A Judicial Revolution? (Reviews)

Malaysia see Islam in Malaysian Politics
Marketing see Toys R Big Business

Media see Opening the Airwaves: Cultural Squeeze for National Broadcasting

New Zealand Election Preview Hyam Gold reviews the state of New Zealand politics prior to the November 1993 general election; pics, illustration. Vol 70: 5, 4-11.

Nuclear Weapons in the New World Order John Forge and Sverre Myhra speculate on the role of nuclear weapons in international politics by examining the nuclear aspirations of India, Pakistan, South Africa and North Korea; pics. Vol 70: 2, 4-10.

Olympics see Sydney's (Toxic) Green Olympics; Sydney 2000: The Games People Play.

Opening the Airwaves: Cultural Squeeze for National Broadcasting? Richard Palfreyman assesses the options facing the ABC and SBS in their efforts to maintain their relevance in a deregulated environment; pics. Vol 70: 6, 19-25.

Political figures see Bob Hawke: 'A Bloke Who Loved His Country' (Reviews); Zhirinovsky (Current Notes).

Political parties see the Nationals and Electoral Decline; Liberal in Vain?

Political Reform in Vietnam Carlyle A. Thayer reviews two major political developments toward making Vietnam a 'law governed state', as a result of reforms introduced in 1986; pics. Vol 70: 1, 22-26.

Politics see also Italy 1993: Death of a regime?; Japan's Politics in Turmoil (Current Notes); New Zealand Election Preview; Something New Under the Rising Sun; South Africa: A Prisoner of History; Singapore: Consent, Coercion and Constitutional Engineering; South Australian Politics: The End of an Era; Islam in Malaysian Politics; Russia's Crisis and the Corruption of Reform (Reviews)

Rwanda see Double Genocide (Current Notes)

South Australian Politics: the End of an Era? Antony Green looks back on a remarkable decade, reviews the campaign and the election, and previews a likely new era for the Liberals in government; graph, pics, table. Vol 70: 8, 4-11.

Rural Sector see Sorting the Wheat from the Chaff

Singapore: Consent, Coercion and Constitutional Engineering Lily Rahim examines the efforts of the People's Action Party government to maintain its ascendancy in Singapore; table, pic. Vol 70: 7, pp20-26.

Something New under the Rising Sun? Electoral Reform in Japan Ross Smiley looks at the prospects for electoral reform in Japan, following the defeat of the LDP in July 1993; table, pics. Vol 70: 5, 18-26.

Sorting the Wheat from the Chaff: Exploding some Myths about the Rural Sector in Australia John W. Longworth and Paul C. Riethmuller examine and expose as myths some of the most common assumptions about the Australian rural sector; pics, tables. Vol 70: 1, 13-21.

South Africa: A Prisoner of History? Douglas Booth and Colin Tatz argue that South Africa's ideological, religious, political and economic past will not allow any real change to happen in the 'new'

South Africa; pics. Vol 70: 6, 4-11.

Sport see Women and Sport

The Sustainable Development Debate Revisited Colin Hunt assesses the limitations of the world ecosystems to sustain continuous world economic growth, and proposes new directions for industrialised countries; graph, pics. Vol 70: 10, 4-11.

Sydney 2000: The Games People Play Douglas Booth and Colin Tatz analyse how Sydney defeated the other bidding cities and critically appraise the opportunities that the 2000 Games will allegedly offer Australians; pics, table. Vol 70: 6, 4-11.

Sydney's (Toxic) Green Olympics Sharon Beder reveals the truth of the degree of toxic contamination and the effectiveness of proposed remediation measures at Homebush Bay; pics, map. Vol 70: 6, 12-18.

Tackling the Jobs Crisis Roy Green reviews the dimensions of unemployment in Australia today and argues for a comprehensive policy approach to tackle the problem; graphs, tables. Vol 70: 4, 4-15.

Televising Court Proceedings Ian M. Ramsay reviews the present situation in Australia and overseas and sets out the main arguments for and against televising court proceedings; pics. Vol 70: 4, 16-22.

Toys R Big Business Wendy Varney explores how marketing toys as part of a promotional package for other products may suit the toy companies, but is it good for our children?; pics. Vol 70: 2, 11-15.

Trade policy see Australian Trade Policy; Australia and APEC

The Trials of Democracy in Algeria and Egypt Larbi Sadiki examines the political and economic circumstances, the tensions and challenges, successes and failures in Egypt's and Algeria's dalliance with democracy; pics. Vol 70: 8, 19-24.

Unemployment see Tackling the Jobs Crisis

UN Sanctions Against Iraq: The Human Impact Maggie Grey draws attention to the less publicised consequences of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait: severe economic sanctions which are affecting the health and welfare of the people; pics. Vol 70: 11, 11-18.

United Nations see also The United Nations and International Security (Reviews)

Vietnam see Political Reform in Vietnam; Economic Reform in the New Vietnam

Why Yugoslavia Fell Apart Mary E. Wilkie explains the reasons behind the break-up of Yugoslavia; pics, map. Vol 70: 1, 4-12.

Women and Sport in Australia L.M. Randall traces the difficult path Australian women have had to tread in striving for acceptance as competitors, officials and administrators; pics. Vol 70: 3, 19-26.

Women see also Movements for Change (Reviews)

Yugoslavia see Why Yugoslavia Fell Apart

Current Notes

Australia, Asia and Human Rights Diplomacy Peter Van Ness examines the record and potential for Australia in the area of human rights diplomacy. Vol 7: 7, 27-29.

The Cambodian Election Trevor Findlay reports on the enthusiasm and commitment of the Cambodian people during the elections conducted by the UN in May. Vol 70: 2, 27-28.

Crisis in Moscow Graeme Gill looks at the battle between Boris Yeltsin and the Congress of People's Deputies for legislative and constitutional control of the Russian federation. Vol 70: 1, 27-29.

Double Genocide: The Crisis in Central Africa Paul Nursey-Bray and Pal Ahluwalia explain the background of the ethnic violence in Rwanda and Burundi. Vol 70: 11

The Israeli-PLO Peace Accord Ian Bickerton comments on the historic accord which many hope will be more than a symbolic step on the way to resolving this century's longest war. Vol 70: 5, 27-28.

Japan's Hosokawa: Living Dangerously Purnendra Jain reviews the first few months of the Hosokawa government; pic. Vol 70: 10, pp25-26.

Japan's Politics in Turmoil Purnendra Jain reports on Japan's July 1993 general election, which saw the Liberal Democratic Party lose government after thirty-eight years in power; pic. Vol 70: 3, pp27-28.

The Limits of Schindler's List Richard Bosworth casts an historian's eye over the film crowned Best Picture at the Academy awards. Vol 70: 10, 27-28.

The Sacred and the Profane: Lead, Petrol Prices and the Poor Peter Newman is dismayed that Australians care more for our motor vehicles than for the brains of our children. Vol 70: 4, 28-29.

Zhirinovskiy Jack Rozycki argues that the rise of Russia's Vladimir Zhirinovskiy is similar in many respects to Hitler's, and the West would do well to recognise early the danger he represents. Vol 70: 9, 28-29.

Reviews

Bob Hawke: 'A Bloke Who Loved His Country' Clement Macintyre looks to Stephen Mills for the inside story on the Hawke years. Vol 70: 6, 30-31.

Environmental Politics Doug McEachern reviews two keenly awaited books with contrasting approaches to the issues and politics of environmental concern. Vol 70: 10, 29-31.

Grand Days? Lenore Coltheart reviews the work of Frank Moorhouse where he brings alive most of the people and ideals of the League of Nations. Vol 70: 7, pp30-31.

Invoking Justice Wayne Cristaudo reviews three books which attempt to chart difficult terrain in the field of justice studies. Vol 70: 5, 29-30.

Journeyings C.A. Hurst boards the tram on Glenferrie Road to relive his school days in this review of Janet McCalman's evocative 'biography of a middle-class generation'. Vol 70: 10, 29-31.

Mabo: A Judicial Revolution? Patrick Allington reviews a collection of legal and political analyses of the Mabo decision and its impact on Australian law. Vol 70: 4, 30-31.

The Migrants' Australia Robert Holton reviews the experiences of migration contained in Brian Murphy's The Other Australia. Vol 70: 11, 28-29.

Movements for Change Lisa Hill reviews two books on social movements: women in Australian politics, and the role of 'new social movements' in Australian society. Vol 70: 3, 29-30.

Participating in Government Jenny Stock reviews the experience in Australia of citizen participation in government. Vol 70: 9, 30-31.

The Republicanism Debate Maaikie Knottenbelt reviews a wide-ranging and provocative addition to a debate that is attracting much ink and image as Australia grapples with its civic identity. Vol 70: 2, 29-31.

Russia's Crisis and the Corruption of Reform Roderic Pitty examines the parallels between Mikhail Gorbachev's last two years as president of the USSR and Boris Yeltsin's efforts to confirm his powers as president of Russia. Vol 70: 8, 28-31.

The United Nations and International Security Samuel M. Makinda reviews Foreign Minister Gareth Evans' contribution to the debate on the future role of the United Nations; pic. Vol 70: 6, 26-29.